

Locke Workshop

October 17-18, 2014

Faculty Room,
Connecticut Hall

Friday, October 17

3-4:45 pm Alex Silverman, University of Chicago, "Locke's Cartesian Response to External World Skepticism"

Commentator: Samuel C. Rickless, University of California, San Diego

5:15-7 pm Jonathan Vertanen, Yale University, "Locke on Kinds and Relative Identity"

Commentator: Matthew Stuart, Bowdoin College

Saturday, October 18

9-10:30 am Matthew Leisinger, Yale University, "Reconciling Freedom and Suspension: Locke on freedom of the will and 'the source of all liberty'"

11am -12:45 pm Martha Bolton, Rutgers University, "Locke on Substance and Identity: a Univocal and Internally Consistent Theory"

Commentator: Matthew Leisinger, Yale University

2:30-4 pm Matthew Stuart, "Succeeding Ideas"

4:30-6:15 pm Samuel C. Rickless, "Locke's Ontology of Relations"

Commentator: Julia Borcherding, Yale University

The workshop is supported by the Edward J. and Dorothy Clarke Kempf Fund.